Period for Reply
-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-5,7 are allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fuse et al. (6330634B1).
4. As per claim 8, Fuse et al. discloses specifying to the RCC, by the CPU, a read position for reading out the boot program instructions stored in a first data block in the data-rewritable nonvolatile memory; and determining, via the RCC, whether the first data block is faulty or not by reading block state information stored in a leading data page of the first data block that indicates whether the data block is faulty or not faulty; and outputting a first data from the first data block to the CPU when the first data block is determined as not faulty, and reading, when the first data block is determined as faulty, second data from a second data block and outputting said second data to CPU when a block state information stored in a leading data page of the second data block indicates that the second data block is not faulty, wherein, at least two boot program instructions are stored in a predetermined number of data blocks in parallel in the data-rewritable nonvolatile memory, the predetermined number being less than the total number of data blocks, and the RCC prevents the CPU from accessing the non-volatile memory while the RCC determines the data block to output to the CPU in column 4, lines 6-8; column 9, lines 22-30; column 12, lines 26-54.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments and amendments with respect to claims 1-5,7 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of these claims has been withdrawn.
6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The newly added limitations required a new reference to be found to reject the claims. Please see the above rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
